Parallels 3.0 has been released. It claims to offer 3D graphics and DirectX support. However, these features do not appear to actually work. It will not even run Solitaire or any of the other games included in Vista.

Yah, I noticed that there's very little new (that works) in 3.0. I think they wanted some money from gullible users; I'll be more careful in the future. It appears to be a vapor-ware fundraising release. How quickly nice guys turn into arse-wipes.
