OBJECTIVE:

I have been in practice since 1972. After I have just had some time off and I wish to return to a situation where my unique skills can be best utilized, without the obligation of somebody just completing training. I have excellent communication skills and did extensive defense oriented medical legal work for many years. I also have unique skill in the business aspect of medicine. I have been volunteering for the last few years setting up an orthopedic training program in Africa. I have enjoyed treating patients and doing surgery so much that I now want to use those skills again in our country.
