

Re: Phil and the laundry/spoiler 9th June

Source: <http://newsgroups.derkeiler.com/Archive/Uk/uk.media.radio.archers/2008-06/msg01843.html>

- From: rf10@xxxxxxxxxxxxx (Robin Fairbairns)
 - Date: 22 Jun 2008 07:47:42 GMT
-

badriya <badriyavv@xxxxxxxxxx> writes:

On Wed, 18 Jun 2008 20:01:03 +0100, Kim Andrews <bykimbo@xxxxxxxxxxxxx> wrote:

Did you get measured? Any bra has to fit properly, and most women's don't apparently – and I'd expect that wiring would be more painful than plain cloth if the size was wrong.

My mother took me to a corsetier when I began to develop. I was measured and hated it. She kept on about placing yourself into the cups. I've remembered that and it does work though. Do you think most corsetiers are lesbians?

sounds like an ideal job. i suppose you need training ... in which case i couldn't get into it so near to retirement...

—

Robin Fairbairns, Cambridge

.